Pasta Bolognese

Homemade Pasta

Ingredients

- For each whole for each whole egg 100 g
- All purpose flour
- A pinch of salt

Strips

- Tagliolini 1-2 mm
- Fettuccine 3-5 mm
- Tagliatelle 6-10 mm
- Pappardelle 1-3 cm

Directions

- Split the eggs into a bowl and add a pinch of salt.
- Place the flour on a work surface and create a hole with your hands.
- mix the eggs with the flours (with hands or fork), incorporating a little at a time, until everything is combined.
- Knead the pieces of dough together. (You can choose to knead by hand to make fresh Italian homemade pasta, or you can use a stand mixer)
- knead and work it with your hands for about 10 minutes. (Pay attention: if the dough is too soft and sticky, add flour; if it is too hard and with too much flour yet, add water.)
- make a big ball and wrap it in a cling film. Let it rest at room temperature for 30 minutes.
- Dust your work surface with some flour, using flour, that's important. Take a tennis ball-sized piece of pasta dough and flatten it out with your palms.
- Start to flatten the dough with your rolling pin. (Remember to dust the pasta dough and/or the rolling pin with flour if you feel it's becoming sticky.)
- Start always from the center, sliding it in all directions in order to obtain a pasta sheet of uniform thickness.
- Gradually reduce the thickness until you get a sheet just over 0.2 inches (0.5 mm) thick.
- Roll out the dough until it reaches a thickness of about 1-5 mm then roll it on itself and with a sharp knife, cut it into strips of dough, same width if possible. With this method you can make different kind of pasta. It always depends on the width of the pasta strips.

- Stir and simmer for a further 5 to 6 minutes. add the ground beef,
- Mix, then turn the heat up. Let it to brown slowly; the meat needs time to properly seal. Deglaze with red wine and mix again. Add the tomato puree as soon as the alcohol has evaporated.
- Stir and incorporate it in. Several ladles of boiling vegetable broth should be added.
- Place the lid on top, but do not entirely close. The Bolognese sauce must now simmer for at least two hours. Every 20 minutes, check it and add more broth as necessary. Taste the sauce after two hours and add salt and pepper as desired. The sauce is ready after one more stirring.
